

MY FATHER & OTHER SUPERHEROES

The day Nick Makoha realised he was going to become a father, he also realised he had no idea how to be one...

This is one man's honest revelation of how pop culture raised him in the absence of his father. We follow Nick's journey as he discovers what it takes for a man to become a hero, and how a hero can be just a man....

My Father and Other Superheroes is a moving and powerful story about the journey from childhood to fatherhood. Set across continents and eras, it follows one man's struggle to come to terms with the responsibilities of being a parent and his confrontation with his own father's absence.

TOUR DATES

mac birmingham

Wed 1 - Sat 4 Feb, 8pm
(Matinee Thu 2 Feb, 2pm) | Tickets £10 (£7) Post show Discussion 2 Feb
www.macarts.co.uk
0121 446 3232

The Albany, London

Thu 23 Feb 7.30pm | Tickets £8 (£6)
www.thealbany.org.uk/
020 8692 4446

ARC, Stockton (as part of a double bill)

Wed 29 Feb 7.30pm | Tickets £10 (£8) Schools / Colleges £5
www.arconline.co.uk/01642 525199

Contact, Manchester (Part of Flying Solo Festival 2012)

Tue 6 & Wed 7 Mar, 7.30pm, £8 (£5)
www.contactmcr.com/nickmakoha 0161 274 0600

Directed by Benji Reid
Sound Designer: Andrew Wong
Supported by Contact

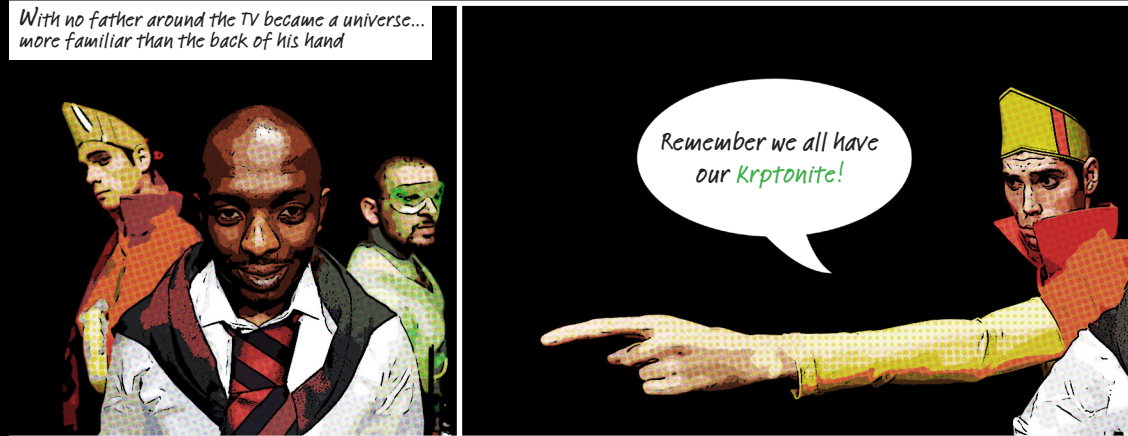

This production was originally developed at Spokelab, Theatre Royal Stratford East Supported by the National Lottery through Arts Council England

tumblr www.nickmakoha.tumblr.com
twitter www.twitter.com/FatherSuperhero

MY FATHER & OTHER SUPERHEROES

With no father around the TV became a universe... more familiar than the back of his hand

Being a dad, how hard can it be...?